CHANGE NEEDED IN DAILY LIFE

National Council of Episcopal Considers Problems of Present Day.

CHICAGO, July 31.—A fundamental change "in the spirit and working of our control and industry" is necessary to restore the world to peace and order, according to a declaration of social service principles which has been adopted by the National Council of the Episcopal Church. The declaration, which was recommended for adoption as the fixed policy of the church by the Episcopal General Convention which will meet at Portland, Ore., Sept. 6, "The fundamental change proposed can only be effected, according to the declaration, "by accepting as the basis of all our relations the principle of co-operation in service for the common good, in place of unrestricted competition for private or sectional advantage."

A definition of the meaning of social service and a platform embodying that definition, were adopted at a recent meeting of the department of Christian Social Service of the National Council, and by that body referred to the National Council, which has now given them its endorsement with the recommendation that they be approved by the national church. The declaration is as follows:

"Christian Social Service means the application of the principles of the Gospel of Jesus Christ to all the relations into which men and women are brought, whether in government, industry, social or political life.

"It means definite obedience, by all who bear the Christian name, to Christ's law of love."

"It means the golden rule, to all men and women, whether living near or far away, with whom one can establish the relationship of service."

"We understand the Christian religion to have a larger meaning and field than has been commonly recognized and that its message concerns justice and righteousness, fairness and the application of the golden rule to all men and women, in whatever position of relation in life they may be. We understand that a position of any advantage conferred by material means, education, social or official position, carries with it responsibility toward those with whom one has to deal and whose responsibility means the disobedience of the Law of God."

"The Church must serve all people, the privileged and the privileged alike, and must continue to stand for mercy, charity and compassion toward those who are in trouble; but beyond that it must stand for social justice, remembering that Jesus Christ died for all and that one soul is in his sight, and should be in the sight of his disciples, as precious as another."

"Those who are in positions of business, professions, or any call in life, where they have the service of others, whether as wage-earners or in any other relation, should recognize the right of the employed to full opportunity for self-development, the welfare of human life should be emphasized above the value of property. Wages sufficient for a wholesome living should be the return for efficient service and the more that can be done in making the employer and the employed partners in business with a feeling of common and friendly interest and mutual service, the better."

"We understand that Christian Social Service means following the example of the Master, who came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to mean obedience to the law of God. Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself, and that it is our work to bring this law of the Church to realize this and so to fill out the ideal of Christ toward humanity."

The National Council recommends to the General Convention that in the name of the Church it take action on the following:

"BE IT RESOLVED, That in sympathy with the resolutions of the Lambeth Conference of 1920 we desire to emphasize our conviction that the pursuit of mere self-interest, whether in the individual or corporate, will never bring healing to the wounds of Society. It should be recognized as an outstanding and pressing duty of the Church to convince its members of the necessity of nothing less than a fundamental change in the spirit and working of our social and industrial life. This change can only be effected by accepting as the basis of all our relations the principle of co-operation in service for the common good in place of unrestricted competition for private or sectional advantage."

"RESOLVED FURTHER, That in obedience to Christ's teaching as to covetousness and self-seeking the General Convention call upon the members of His Church to be diligent both by personal action and sacrifice in maintaining the superiority of the claims of humanity to those of property. To this end it would emphasize the duty which is laid upon all Chrisians of putting human values first of avoiding extravagance and waste and of upholding a high standard of honor and thoroughness in work. In a word, they must set an example in subordinating the claim for rights to the call of duty.

Life and Character Reading.
JULY 31.

People born on this date come under the sign of Leo, the Lion and the middle sign of the Fire Triplet. These people are usually not over tall, have strong, wiry bodies, well proportioned, broad shoulders, round head with light or ruddy complexion, strong deep voice, and large eyes.

Companionship and true genial friends for Leo people will usually be found first among Sagittarius people, next among those born under Libra or Aries.

The diseases which these people are liable to suffer from are weak lungs, heart trouble and violent fevers. All these ailments and every other known to man can be entirely dominated, for ever cast out by those who realize that mind is the master and body the servant of mind.
